

Invites you to a free training on:

Human Trafficking & Children in State Care

Understanding the Issues and Best Practices for Serving Kids

(CLE credits pending)

As recent news stories have made clear, children in out-of-home care are particularly vulnerable to being lured into domestic minor sex trafficking. Unaccompanied immigrant children are vulnerable to both labor and sex trafficking. Increased awareness is the first step in shaping a system of care that prevents trafficking and appropriately serves children who have been victims of trafficking. This training will help participants understand:

- a. Red Flags and Warning Signs –How To Identify Potential Trafficking Victims*
- b. Best Practices to Prevent Youth from Getting Trafficked*
- c. Services for Trafficking Victims – Treatment Not Punishment*

Who Should Attend:

Attorneys, GALs, Caseworkers, Supervisors, and other individuals who work directly with youth.

Date: Thursday, October 4th 2011 1:00 – 4:00 pm.

Place: ChildNet
4100 Okeechobee Blvd.
West Palm Beach, FL 33409
